A Queer Flea for Exemption. A friend-sends us the following decument.

which shows that it is well to have two strings to your bow, especially in a civil war : RICHMOND, 1st Sept., 1864. CAPTAIN : In obedience to your order, I report to you to day, as the enrolling officer of the third congressional district of Virginia, and, in doing so, I beg leave respectfully to submit the following ressues why I should not be cu-rolled as a conscript, in any capacity, into the service of the emfederate states. The first section of an act, approved February 17, 1864, entitled "an ecito organiza forces to serve during the war," reads thus:

"The congress of the Confederate States of America do entet, that from and after the passage of this act, all white men, residents of the Confederate States, between the ages of 17 and 50, shall be in the syries of the Confederate States for the war.'

This section clearly excludes from the "service," referred to all men who are not "white."

The cide of Virginia, ch. 107, sec. 17, page 522, provides, "That the court of any county or corporation, upon satisfactory proof by a white person of the fact, may grant to any free person of mix d blood, resident therein, a certificate that he is not a negro, which certifo to shall protee such person against the penilies and disabil ties to which free urg ces are subeot as such." On the 27th day of December. 1859, the county court of Hanover county, Va., in conformity to the statute just quoted, made an crder, in which I was recognized as "a free person of mixed blood," and the fact ordered to be certified that I am "act a negro."

In proof of this, I have the honor to increase herowith a copy of said order, signed by the clerk of said cour : The legal inference from this order is, first that I am not a "white" man, and, consequent ly, not liable to conscription under any act of Congress of the Confederate States; and, seemd, that I am "not a negro" and not hable to "the penalties and disabilities to which free negroes are subject as such," and, consequently, that I am exampt from impressment toro the service to which slaves and irea negroes are subject. For the foregoing considerations I ask that you will grant me a discharge and a protection against fatury arrest. I am, Captain, very respectfully, your obcdient servant. JNO. SPURLOCK. Capt. John A. Coke, earolling officer, Third servative says: "Doctor Miller, speaked, it receiving some rather uncomplimentary notices at the hands of the piess, and we are not so sure but that they are well deserved. There is positively no grounds whatever for any belief in the theory of his divine agency in healing diseases. These goods will be sold for soo has been healed by his manipulations we do not know of it. Some have doubtless experiouced a degree of relief at his hands, either real or imaginary, but to say that he can heal diseases is saying too much, and we think it is time the public should be advised of it. Let no one visit Moter under the impression that he is exercising any other than a natural gift possessed by many other men, in equal or less degree. The man is unquestionably highly with Northern houses, and superior in quality. Charged with electricity, and by a dex-Oreat care has been bestowed upon the selections application of his hands upon his patients he is often enabled to poliate or relieve psin. An! this is the extent of the powers of the noted Dostor Miller. Many persons believe he is perfectly becast in setting up the claim he does to divine agency in the mat ter, but on the other hand there are those who doubt his sincerity. If he is really sincere, he is a vericable monomaniae on the autject of healing; if he is not sincere, he is as gross and cunning a hypecrite as ever decrived a too oredulous people. "We deem it our du y to the public to mik this statement." The Finessiles Herali says: "The farore rbout the famous 'De.' Miller, who is now at the Roaneke Red Sulphur Springs, still confoues, and hundreds are being duped by him. From what we hear we are disposed to believe Mr. Miller is innocent of any deliberate inten tion to deceive, but he is daily deceiving the people, nevertheless. It is now high time the press were exposion this preposterous superstition, and assisting to educate people up to better things.

Some steam thip cooks at Savannah stole a grindstone from a wharf, covered it with paper. put a layer of white paste over it, and topped it off with some very pretty fresting. Then they gave it to the stewards, saying it was a cake and they would have a reffl), at twen'y-five cents a chance. Quite a number of the clerks were into the sport, and finally the cake was won by the railread clerk, who in turn rafiled it to the col. ored employees at ten cents a chance, and was won by one of the gang, who promised to divide the spoils between his comrades. He borrowed from one of the cooks a table knife, and surrounded by a large crowd, began cutting through the frosted work until he struck the grindstone. Then the crowd got mai, and to saying Waterloo or Sedan has on a Paris street
